Wonderful new white. Highest award at Connecticut State Fair, 1926 for the finest bloom in the show. Over 10,000 blooms on exhibition. The worlds finest white.

-- 1927 --

IN continuing our policy of testing nearly every new variety and comparing them with old and present favorites, not only by growing them in our fields but by displaying the blooms at our very impressive exhibits in the leading flower shows throughout New England, we have the opportunity of judging the true worth of a variety from every angle thereby saving our patrons considerable disappointment and expense by offering only such varieties that are of proven merit.

We could fill our catalogue with hundreds of varieties of recent introduction, but in a great many cases a new introduction does not always prove worthy. Only new varieties that are good are offered and at prices within reason. What we have seen of the newer offerings we do not hesitate to state that our own American varieties are proving, as a whole, vastly superior to the new introductions of foreign origin. We have many new ones but not in sufficient quantity to warrant listing them.

To the thousands of people that saw our exhibits last year, this will account for the varieties not listed in this catalogue that you had admired at the shows. Our fields are visited by thousands of Gladiolus enthusiasts during the blooming period and the rare and the new are soon engaged. Visit our fields; always something interesting to see and admire.

Seabrook Nurseries Gladiolus have achieved an enviable reputation throughout the world for their vigor and productiveness.

Our rigid New England climate imbibes our stock with the vigor and hardiness not found in stock from warmer climates. Nothing but young bulbs are offered, grown in clean, light soil without the application of any fertilizers, giving us a product equal in quality to any on the market.

Extending our thanks to all our patrons and for the many complimentary letters received during the past year and expressing our desire to continue serving you, we are,

Yours very truly,

LOUIS G. ROWE, Proprietor.

Care and Culture of Gladiolus

BULBS should not be planted until corn planting time, as nothing is gained by planting before the ground is warm.

Select a sunny location away from roots of trees and shrubs. In localities where summer is extremely warm, a partially shaded situation is preferable. If your soil is heavy, plant four inches deep, and if light, six inches, having bulbs five or six inches apart.

Place bulbs in a well worked trench in staggard or zigzag rows,—
., and cover at first with about two inches of loam; when shoots begin to appear, work balance of loam into the trench. At all times keep the soil loose. As an aid to producing larger blooms work in fertilizer around the plants when about a foot or more in height and never at planting time. At the time flower spikes appear abundant watering is very beneficial.

Bulbs should be dug as soon as you note the leaves turning yellow. Cut stem off half an inch above bulb, spread them out to dry for two or three days in a sunny location and then place in an open shed or room for two weeks or more before storing them away in a cool, dry cellar. Keep them spread out and not over three inches deep. It is a benefit to give bulbs an occasional sunning or airing during the winter.

READ BEFORE ORDERING

WE exercise the greatest care to have everything true to name and will replace free, or refund your remittance on any stock proving otherwise. Our terms are net cash before shipment unless arranged otherwise. 25% deposit will hold winter orders until March 1st. Orders not fully paid for will be sent C. O. D. for the balance at time of shipment to your locality. All stock in this list will be sent prepaid anywhere in the world that the parcels post goes. All stock offered and orders accepted subject to prior sale.

Please make Money Orders payable at the Exeter, New Hampshire, Post Office.

THE bulbs that we offer are $1\frac{1}{4}$ inches and over in size and are considered the best flowering size. The small bulbs are about one inch and guaranteed to bloom, but cannot be expected to give as large a bloom as the larger bulbs the first year, the texture of the blooms being somewhat softer also. But you will be surprised at the very satisfactory results obtained from one inch bulbs. Many customers prefer buying a new variety in this size as the price is less and at small cost they come into possession of varieties that they would otherwise omit owing to the cost of the larger size. No less than six of the smaller size will be sold unless priced singly. Six bulbs offered at the dozen rate.
